Mrs. Boulton has lectured many times at the Museum for enthusiastic audiences, mostly about her travels in Asia, Africa and other remote parts of the world. She has been around the world many times and has made photograph records and sound recordings of primitive and oriental music. She has made films of the native life, ceremonies, and special celebrations such as the royal wedding in Nepal. Wherever she goes she manages to get first rate films ~~and~~ with sound of the country. She tells about these with a special interest in art and music. She has probably the greatest collection in this country of musical instruments from primitive and oriental peoples.
